

The code we wrote in class sends out the “provisional notification” as follows:

(We didn't see it because it was in the Notification Center.)

If you choose Keep... and then Deliver Immediately, you see the following in Settings:

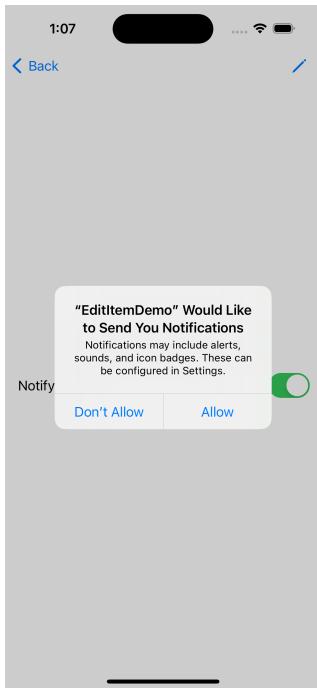

(Change to allow Banners and Sounds, and you'll see the rest of the demo next time you run it and send a notification.)

For example:

If we take the “.provisional” out of the list of things we’re asking permission for, then we’ll see the following when we ask for notifications permission:

If you tap Allow, here’s how the notification privileges are configured:

